Journalism, Music, Literature Awards Made

Mackinlay Kantor Wins Pulitzer Prize

NEW YORK (AP)—Pulitzer Prizes have been bestowed on Mackinlay Kantor for his Civil War novel "Andersonville" and on a husband-wife playwriting team for their Broadway hit, "The Diary of Anne Frank."

The 1956 Pulitzer awards in journalism, literature and music were announced Monday by the trustees of Columbia University. Kantor's novel, the story of the horrors of a Confederate prison camp, won the Pulitzer Prize for fiction.

In Paris Monday night Kantor expressed great satisfaction. "After 30 books," he said, "a writer can hardly be blamed for hankering after something like this."

Vacationing In Europe

The author is vacationing in Europe with his family.

Albert Hackett and Frances Goodrich won the drama award for their stage adaptation of the diary of a 13-year-old Jewish girl who died in a Nazi concentration camp in World War II. The annual Pulitzer Prizes are awarded by the Columbia trustees under the will of the late Joseph Pulitzer, publisher of the old New York World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. The first prizes were made in 1917.

None of this year's winners had won a Pulitzer Prize before.

Given Service Award

The Watsonville (Calif.) Register-Pajaronian was named winner of the public service award in journalism. The newspaper, with a circulation of 7,800 carried on a crusade that led to the resignation of a district attorney and the conviction of one of his associates.

At Watsonville, Editor Frank Orr commented:

"I am very humble that a newspaper of our small size, way off in a far corner of the United States, was chosen for such an

Only 335 Votes Are Cast Here By Noon Today

Total Is Half Of '52 Figure; 83 Democrats, 252 Republicans Ballot

Only 335 votes were cast in the city's 20 precincts by noon today, a survey of voting places revealed. Of the total, 252 were Republican ballots and 83, Democrat.

The total number of votes cast here today is only a little more than half the total in the last comparable election.

The votes cast by noon in the May 6, 1952 election totaled 641, 501 Republican and 100 Democratic. The noon vote in the 1948 primary election was 382.

The all time record for a noon primary vote was set in 1940 when 504 Republicans and 212 Democrats swarmed to the polls.

The Perry Township voting by noon today also was light, with only eight Democrats and 37 Republicans casting ballots. In 1952, a total of 61 ballots was cast in the township by noon, and in 1948, 31.

Below are listed the total number of votes cast in the city by precinct to noon today. A proper comparison of votes cast by precinct today with ballots cast in previous primaries cannot be made because some large precincts were broken up into smaller precincts since the 1952 primary election.

'Bandsman Of Year' To Be Announced

The Salem High School Bandsman of the Year will be announced at the annual spring concert of the high school band Thursday evening at 8:15 in the school auditorium.

Howard Pardee will direct the band in the presentation which will include several novelty numbers featuring various sections of the band.

The concert is being held in conjunction with this week's observance of National Music Week throughout the country.

Included in the band's repertoire will be the Florentine March by Fucik, Good Friday music from Parsifal by Wagner, Finale of the New World Symphony by Dvorak, Finnish Rhapsody by Red, Caucasian Sketches by Ivanov, Adagio Pathetic by Godard, Bugler's Holiday by Anderson, Song of the Bells by Anderson, and March Fantasy by Baroni.

Duane Bates, a 1955 graduate of Salem High School, was the recipient of the Bandsman of the Year award last year. Members of the band elect the bandsman who has made outstanding contributions to band work during the year.

Marine Corps Training Change Causes Anger

Parris Island Drill Instructors, Junior Officers Resent Move

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—The Marine Corps' shuffling of its training program, brought on by the drowning here of six young recruits, has resulted in a drastic shakeup and some deep resentment at this depot.

The recruit training program, the primary mission of Parris Island, has been taken over by Brig. Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr., and the commanding general, normally a major general, has been reduced to command of a handful of service troops.

Greene, who is reporting directly to Gen. Randolph Pate, Marine commandant, said the new command setup would last indefinitely.

There is deep resentment among drill instructors and junior officers over the transfer of Maj. Gen. J. C. Burger to Camp Lejeune, N. C., which Pate ordered last week.

The feeling here is that Burger, who was assistant division commander of the 1st Marine Division in the last year of fighting in Korea, has been made "the goat" of the so-called "death march" of April 8.

It was on that date that S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKoon of Worcester, Mass., marched a recruit platoon into a dark, tidal marshland and the six men were drowned.

McKoon is in the brig here awaiting a trial by court-martial, probably about the end of May, on charges of manslaughter.

In addition to the command shakeup, the Marines have ordered 34 officers from other bases to report here as observers and supervisors. The Corps also is transferring 116 noncommissioned officers to this post to undergo training as drill instructors.

Greene said that 10 of the 34 officers would be assigned as inspectors of recruit training and would "have the authority to go anywhere, day or night, especially at night." If they found anything wrong, Greene explained, "they would take it up with the senior officer present. They will not get between the D-I and the platoon."

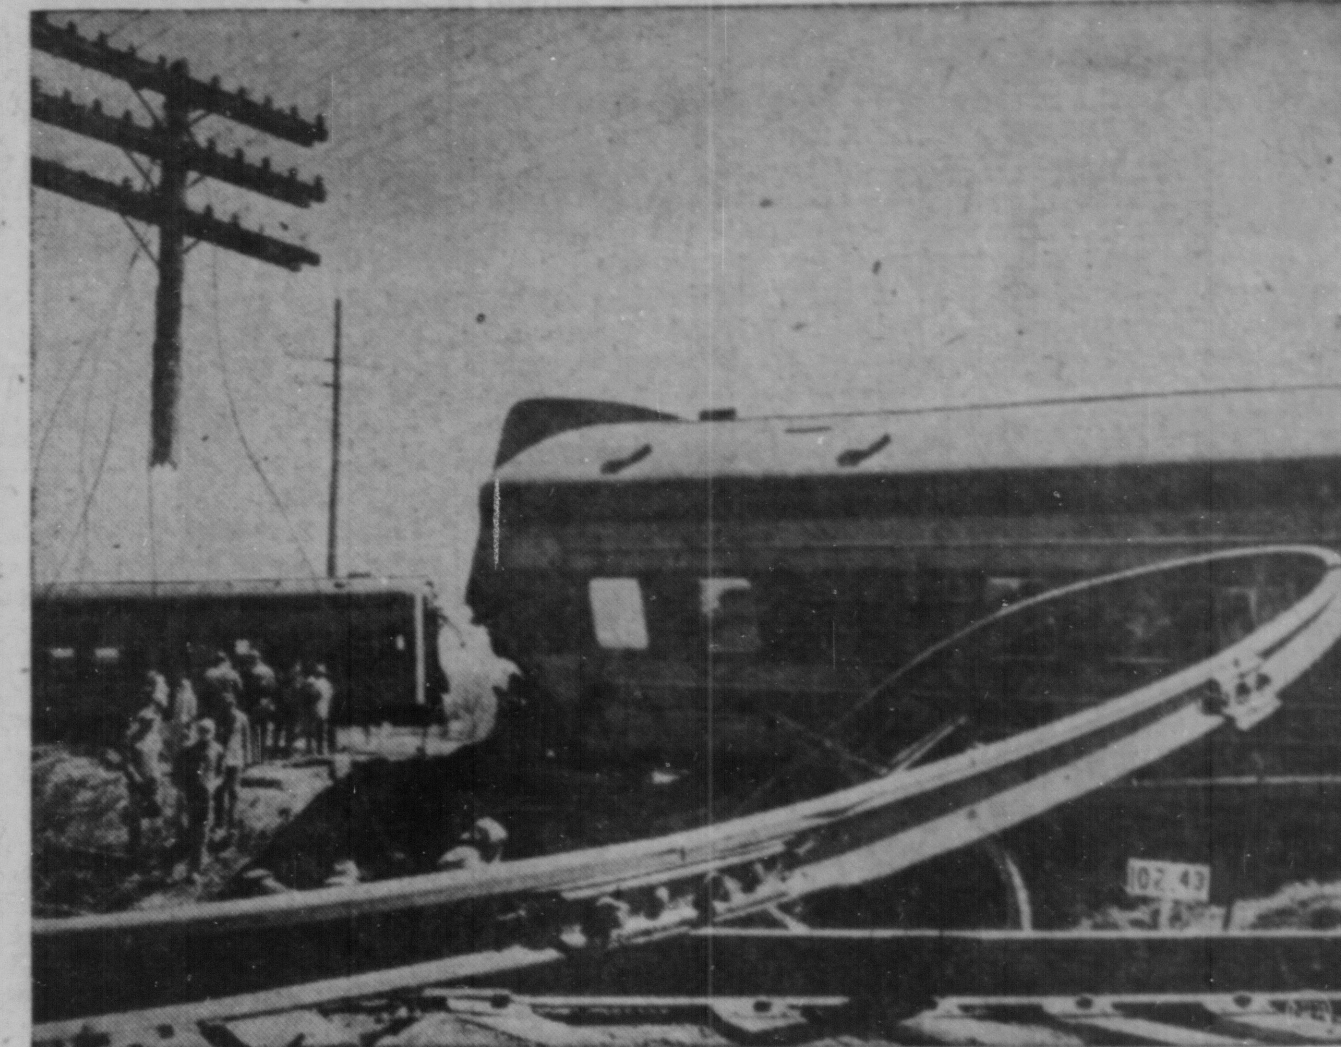

Already the drill instructors and some of the officers here are re-

4-Way Stop Ordered At City Intersection

The intersection of Union Ave. and Maple St. has been posted as a four-way stop intersection on order of the safety committee of City Council.

The committee has the power to declare an emergency in such cases for a 30-day period. Residents of the area had previously petitioned Council to install a traffic light at the intersection.

BASEBALL SPECIAL DERAILED — Twisted rails, a damaged car, and a sheared off telephone pole hanging from overhead wires, mark the intersection near Duplainville, Wis., where a Milwaukee Railroad train derailed after being struck by a gravel truck. At least 100 of the 1,000 children aboard the train, bound for the Braves-Brooklyn game in Milwaukee, were injured. A railroad spokesman said the truck went through a crossing flasher signal.

Allies To Send Arms To Israel

U. S. To Maintain Its Own Embargo

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles has told U. S. allies this country will do all it can to help them send arms to Israel while maintaining its own embargo on weapons shipments to the Middle East.

This was learned authoritatively today following Dulles' return from a North Atlantic Treaty meeting in Paris.

Dulles declared on arriving here that NATO still is primarily a military organization. But he said a need has been recognized for its further development "to surmount the shifting tactics of international communism," and added:

"No time is to be lost in realizing this enlarged goal for NATO." The secretary is expected to expand on this theme in a report on his trip to be carried by radio and television networks tonight.

The address is scheduled at 7 p.m. CST.

Dulles is reported to have talked about the arms-for-Israel question during a side meeting with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau.

France is known to be unhappy about U.S. refusal to share responsibility for France's recent sale to Israel of 12 French-built jet fighters.

The planes were ordered for NATO under a U.S. contract with France. The U.S. government agreed to relieve France of its commitment to deliver them to NATO, but France had to assume

Will Move Headquarters For Sesqui

Headquarters for the sesquicentennial celebration will be moved from its temporary location at 190 Penn St. to the Grand Theater building, it was announced today by the general sesqui committee.

The move will be completed by the end of the week, and all activities for the sesqui will emanate from the new headquarters.

Desks and offices will be located in the lobby, and the auditorium will be used for large gatherings, such as the meeting of sesqui queen contestants scheduled for Monday.

Robert W. Powers of Dennisport, Cape Cod, Mass., business director for the John B. Rogers Producing Co., is in Salem to direct the sesqui arrangements and will maintain an office at sesqui headquarters, along with James Criswell, headquarters chairman.

The Rogers Co. is handling general arrangements for the sesqui program.

In recent years, Powers has devoted most of his time to the business and promotional end of theatricals, although his background includes the actual writing and directing of productions. Among the towns and cities in which he has produced and directed shows and pageants are Chicago, Ill., Van Wert, O., Clinton, Tex., Big Rapids, Mich., Nashville, Ga., and Montgomery, Ala. He was also selected to serve on the production staff of the Louisiana Purchase sesqui centennial celebration in New Orleans in 1953 where special performances were given for the president of the United States and ambassadors from over 20 nations.

Barry Lyndall of the Rogers Co. will direct the pageant, "Saga of Salem," to be presented during the sesqui week, June 9-16.

Others on the headquarters staff are Mrs. Theresa A. Beck and Mrs. Gladys Culbertson, headquarters secretaries.

Six Drivers Fined By Mayor Cranmer

Five motorists, arrested by the State Highway Patrol, were fined today a total of $560 and costs for traffic violations by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer Monday.

Fined were: Dick G. Morgan, 27, of Logan, O., $355 for overload; Willie T. King, 25, of Warrump, Pa., $20 for overload; Allen Helmick, 52, of RD 4, Salem, $25, for permitting an unlicensed minor to operate a motor vehicle; and Julius H. Pirigyl, 54, of Niles, $10 for passing on a hill crest.

Lloyd Robusch, 52, of 625 E. 8th St. was fined $150 and sentenced to three days in jail for drunk driving.

10 Cars Derail, 100 Persons Hurt

Schoolchildren Were On Way To Ball Game

WAUKESHA, Wis. (AP)—More than 100 schoolchildren and teachers were injured Monday when their baseball excursion train was wrecked in a collision with a loaded gravel truck.

The diesel locomotive remained on the tracks, but 10 of the 16 cars hurtled off the rails. The train was carrying 907 pupils and their adult escorts from Portage in south central Wisconsin to Milwaukee for a Milwaukee-Brooklyn baseball game.

A total of 104 persons were admitted to two hospitals. Thirty-seven, 23 of them children, remained overnight. None were listed in critical condition.

The truck driver, Gordon Hinkley, 35, of Waukegan, Ill., suffered compound fractures of both legs and internal injuries. He was listed in "fair" condition.

The crash occurred at the Duplainville crossing, five miles north of here and 23 miles west of Milwaukee.

Engineer George Ives, 56, Oconomowoc, said the truck "hit the first coach so hard that gravel was thrown over the coaches. That car was struck so hard that it went off the track first, causing derailment of the other nine coaches."

Ives said the crossing is designated as a 70 m.p.h. zone and that he had slowed down to that speed.

Auto Is Destroyed By Fire After Crash

Harold C. Dowling, 20, of Kensington, escaped with minor injuries in a one-car traffic mishap which demolished his auto at 3:30 a.m. today on Rt. 644, one and nine-tenths miles north of Salineville.

According to the State Highway Patrol, Dowling fell asleep at the wheel of his auto, causing it to go left of center, crash into a culvert and burst into flames. The Salineville Fire Department was called out to extinguish the blaze.

Dowling was taken to a Salineville physician where he was treated for a sprained shoulder and multiple lacerations, abrasions and contusions of the head and body. He was cited by patrolmen for unsafe operation.

A car driven by Donald S. Martig, 23, of RD 1, Salem, received heavy damage when the driver lost control on a curve, causing it to go off the road and crash into a parked truck, owned by the Salem Concrete and Supply Co. of Wilson St., on Butcher Road, about one and one-half miles east of Salem at 10:15 p.m. Monday.

The truck received only minor damage. Martig was cited by patrolmen for unsafe operation.

20 Europeans Killed In New Rebel Attacks

97 Revolters Slain; 50 Farms Burned, Officer Is Kidnaped

ALGIERS (AP)—A howling mob of 2,000 French students rioted in Algeria's capital today, demanding a tougher French fight to put down the 18-month-old nationalist rebellion in the North African territory.

Shouting "l'armée au pouvoir" (Put the army in power!), the students hurled tomatoes at French Resident Minister Robert Lacoste and fired chairs from sidewalk cafes at police who attacked them with tear gas bombs.

The new outburst against Premier Guy Mollet's policies followed two days of a stepped-up rebel campaign in which 20 European settlers have been killed and more than 50 French farms burned out.

Kill Six Arabs

The nationalists staged two attacks only 23 miles from Algiers during the night, slitting the throats of six Arabs who had served with French forces.

In neighboring French Morocco, comparatively calm since France granted it independence, four armed Moroccans kidnaped a French major who commanded the army mobilization center at Fes.

The French meanwhile claimed a 4-to-1 toll of their Arab opponents. They reported 97 rebels had been killed during the past two days, 73 in a battle near Constantine.

Police Disperse Mob

Lacoste was not hit by the tomato barrage because a strong police guard moved in quickly to push back the demonstrators. Police finally dispersed the mob.

French officials said a well-armed band of 60 uniformed rebels infiltrated St. Pierre-St. Paul, 53 miles southeast of Algiers, Monday night and kidnaped six former Arab troops. The missing men were found this morning with their throats slit.

At Alma, three farms belonging to Europeans were attacked. Buildings were burned, cattle slain and farm machinery was

Truman, 72, Today, Starts Trip Abroad

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman was 72 today but there was no birthday party at his home here.

He and Mrs. Truman took an early morning train from Kansas City for New York, where they will sail aboard the liner United States Friday on a trip to Europe. Truman will receive an honorary degree from Oxford University June 20 and return to the United States July 5.

Before he left he announced Missouri Democratic leaders had agreed to his request that he not be named a delegate to the Democratic National Convention in August.

"I want to be completely a free agent when I go to Chicago," he said.

Missouri's Democratic Executive Committee had voted to recommend to the state convention May 26 that Truman be named one of three delegates-at-large with a full vote at Chicago.

City Hall Painting Bids Far Above Estimate

Bids for the painting of City Hall, opened at noon, Monday, were far over the amount appropriated for the work by City Council, according to Mayor Dean B. Cranmer.

Only one bid was received for the complete job. Henry Leist of Steubenville entered a bid of $6,292 for labor and materials. A bid of $1,065.48 was received from the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. of Youngstown for the paint alone.

The city will redvertise for bids on the work. City Council had appropriated $3,500 for the project.

Salem High School Football Lost $1,781.16 Last Year

Salem High School football lost $1,781.16 last year.

This was revealed last night in the annual football financial report submitted to the Salem Board of Education by school treasurer Fred B. Burchfield.

Total receipts for the year were $9,708.75 plus a balance carried over from the previous season of $1,321.79 for a total of $11,030.54. Total payments over the 12-month period were $11,489.91, leaving the football program with a deficit of $459.37 to begin 1956.

Thus over the year the $1,321.79 balance that was on hand Jan. 1, 1955, was wiped out and a deficit of $459.37 built up by Jan. 1, 1956 for a total loss of $1,781.16.

Biggest item of income was gate receipts which totaled $7,545.55. This included 266 season tickets for a total of $1,729.

The New Philadelphia contest opening gave of the season, provided the biggest gate with $1,664.15 taken in that night.

The Quakers dropped that contest 33-0, and next week, against Ravenna, the gate receipts fell to $353.45.

The Timken-Salem game, later in the season, provided a large gate, with $900.90 collected.

Other gate receipts included: —Goshen Reserves: $293.95. Boardman Reserves $54. Struthers $793.20. Newton Falls $368.40. Dayton Kiser $477.90. Rayen $534.85.

The Dayton Kiser game was held

Bids On School Bonds To Be Opened May 22

Bids for $2,585,000 in bonds to erect a new Salem senior high school and revamp the present high school building will be opened in the Salem Board of Education office in the high school at noon, May 22.

Board Clerk George F. Koontz told board members last night the bonds will be awarded at a meeting of the Board of Education at 8 p.m. that night.

The bonds must be awarded on the basis of the lowest interest rate and highest premium offer made, Koontz said.

The bonds will be dated the first day of June, 1956, shall be in the denomination of $1,000 each, and shall draw interest payable semi-annually on the first day of May and the first day of November of each year beginning Nov. 1, 1956.

Continuing its planning on the new school, the board announced it will meet again next Monday with architects on school plans.

In other action, the board appointed Clem Ehrhart to the school janitors staff; approved purchase of a new power mower for the high school; and approved three new textbooks for use in Salem City Schools.

'Ninyi Yote'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Wally Jones is the only Southerner I know of who can say "ninyi yote" without feeling self-conscious.

Jones, a former cub scout from Birmingham, Ala., at 25 is an African white hunter, and "ninyi yote" in the Swahili tongue means "you all."

Wally shot his first rabbit at the age of 9. At 16 he saw an African movie, and decided right then and there he had to become a professional white hunter.

"I couldn't think of anything life held that could pleasure me more," he recalled.

Thousands of American boys hold this romantic dream briefly, then outgrow it. Wally didn't.

He quit college, joined the U. S. Marines, saved his money. He had $1,000 when he left the Marines in 1952. A few days later he was on a tramp steamer headed for Africa. The authorities in British East Africa made him post a $300 bond to insure his ability to return to America. That left Wally practically penniless on a strange continent.

He went to a white hunter in Nairobi, Kenya, and told him his ambition. The man liked the courage and determination shown by this chunky, blue-eyed Alabama youth. He took him on as an apprentice.

Wally learned so quickly that within a year he had won a hunters license himself. Since then he has led 15 safaris, shot everything from leopards to elephants. Recently his skill won him the job of technical adviser on "Safari," a Columbia pictures film starring Janet Leigh and Victor Mature. Jones is one of two Americans among the 30 to 40 white hunters in British East Africa. At 25 Wally is among the youngest. The career of a white hunter is relatively short.

"After 40 or 50 most of them get domesticated and turn to farming," he said. "But one of the best hunters, a Belgian count, is still active at 54."

"Hunting in Africa isn't particularly dangerous if you use your head. In the time I've been out there no client has been killed, and only one professional hunter. He was killed in a shooting accident."

Unscarred himself, Wally, who has a soft voice and hands rough as sandpaper, is completely satisfied with his life.

"The country out there isn't crowded. It's open and beautiful. "It's no way to get rich. Oh, goodness no, sir. I figure we make about a dollar an hour or less on safari, and we work 16 hours a day."

"It's not something a person goes into to make a lot of money. When we wear old hats and old clothes, it isn't just for atmosphere. But it's so much fun, it seems a shame to take money for it."

When spring rains halt the safaris, Jones works for the Kenya police at $120 a month, and as a policeman he participated in hunts against the savage Mau Maus.

The clients pay approximately $100 a day to go on safari. Most are well-to-do, but they range from Indiana schoolteachers to airplane pilots and Texas oilmen. "The Texans are about the best hunters," said Wally. "Some of them can stalk game as well as we can. In fact I've learned a few tricks from them."

GAS RATE HIKE ASKED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Fuel Gas Co., citing spiralling costs, has filed with Columbus officials a request for a 14.8 per cent hike in natural gas rates.

Allan W. Lundstrum, president of the utility, said the proposed hike would add about 58 cents a month to bills of consumers who use gas for cooking and heating water and an average of $1.80 during the winter months to the bills of those who use natural gas to heat their homes.

Democrats Plan Assault on Ike's Power Policies

Controversial Hells Canyon Dam Bill May Be Brought To Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic leaders were reported clearing the way today to bring the controversial Hells Canyon Dam bill before the Senate for a pre-election assault on President Eisenhower's power policies.

Party leaders were represented as ready to recommend the transfer of Sen. Long of Louisiana from the Interior to the Foreign Relations Committee in a shakeup of Democratic assignments following the death last week of Sen. Alben Barkley of Kentucky.

If this move gains expected approval of the Democratic Steering Committee and the Senate, Long would be replaced on the Interior Committee by an as-yet-unselected Democrat favoring a bill to authorize construction of a federal dam at Hells Canyon, on the Snake River near the Idaho-Oregon border.

Long has lined up with Republican members of the interior group against the federal Hells Canyon project.

His stand has kept bottled up in the committee a bill which Democrats have come to regard as a symbol of their conflict with the Eisenhower administration over power policies.

The Federal Power Commission has authorized the Idaho Power Co., to build three low-level dams on the Snake. This is in line with the Eisenhower administration's policy of sharing natural resource development with private enterprise.

Although Idaho Power's permit has been challenged in the courts, the company already has begun work on two of the three dams.

Linzell Completes Study Of Reports On 2nd Pike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Highway Director S. O. Linzell told newsmen Monday he has completed his study of two engineering reports on a proposed second turnpike in Ohio but could not comment as to whether the reports show the turnpike to be financially feasible.

Linzell added, however, the reports, prepared by J. E. Greiner Co., and Coverdale and Colpitts, make no recommendations.

Last Friday, the Highway Department said the reports indicated a Conneaut to Cincinnati turnpike could cost Ohio nearly 386 million dollars.

Leetonia Scout Troop 13 To Meet Tonight

LEETONIA — A special meeting of Boy Scout Troop 13 will be held this evening at Cherry Valley Lodge to complete plans for an overnight hike to Camp McKinley Friday.

On Friday, May 18 the local scouts will hold a court of honor. A guest speaker will be present and a film will be shown.

D. Wallace Rebekah Lodge will sponsor a public 500 luncheon at the hall Wednesday starting at 1:30 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kyser visited Mr. and Mrs. Paul Howitt at Ohioview, Pa. Saturday.

Fourteen members of MYF of the Methodist Church visited Camp Aldergate, Carrollton, on Sunday. While there they enjoyed a sack lunch.

Ed Gotthardt accompanied his brothers Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Gotthardt of New Waterford and Lester Gotthardt of Darlington, Pa. on a visit Sunday to Mrs. Lillie Gotthardt who is critically ill at the Twin City Nursing Home in Ulrichsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kennedy and Mrs. Sid Golden of Alliance visited their sister, Mrs. Ed Gotthardt Sunday.

The Intermediate Girl Scout's Mother and Daughter Banquet will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church this evening, May 8 at 6:30 and will be served by members of the Deborah Class.

Rev. T. P. Laughner attended a meeting Friday of the conference presidents in synodical offices of the Ohio Synod in Columbus. Mrs. Laughner accompanied him.

4 Persons Perish When Home Burns

DEAL, N. J. (AP)—A mother, her three children and a maid died early Monday in a fire which swept through a three-story stucco home in this fashionable seaside resort.

Suffocated in the smoky blaze were Mrs. William Rediker; two sons, Stewart, 12, and Kenneth, 14; her daughter, Bonnie Joy, 5; and a maid.

The maid was identified only as "Henrietta."

Fire Chief George Woods said that Mr. Rediker was in New York City at the time of the fire.

Rediker is co-owner of the Reid jewelry store chain and the Monte Carlo swimming pool in Asbury Park.

Cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

PIPE LINE APPROVED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Power Commission Monday authorized American Louisiana Pipe Line Co., Detroit, to build and operate a 117-mile line between Payne, Ohio and Bridgman, Mich.

The commission said this would provide a short and economical connection between the main lines of American Louisiana and Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co. of Detroit. Estimated cost of the project is $7,820,000.

TRUCK DRIVER KILLED

BURGETTSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A truck driver, tentatively identified as Clarence Marr of Steubenville, Ohio, was killed Monday night when his light pickup truck was involved in a crash on a bridge near Bavington on Route 22 in Washington County.

Lisbon Council Sets Pool Pay Rates; OKs Stand Contract

LISBON — Village Council Monday night gave third and final reading to an ordinance regulating the rates of pay for employees at the Sadie VanFossan Swimming Pool.

The payment schedule is as follows:

Manager, $750 for the summer; assistant manager, $600; senior life guards, $1 per hour; junior life guards and ticket takers, 75 cents per hour.

Council also accepted the offer of Harry Lederle of 128 Pendleton St. to build a refreshment stand at the swimming pool.

According to the terms of the contract, Lederle will construct the building at a cost of about $1,500 and will operate it, retaining all profit; except five per cent of the gross sales which he will give to the village. After the amount he has paid the village equals the cost of construction of the stand, the structure will revert to the city.

In other action last night Council:

(1) Heard a request from Elmer Donnelly, proprietor of the Donnelly Radio & Television Co.

at 207 E. Lincoln Way, that Council allot him a parking space in front of his business. At present, the section in front of his business is reserved for the state highway patrol driver's examination station. Mayor Wilbur Warren appointed Patrolman Leon Zahradt to make arrangements with the patrol and Donnelly regarding the parking space.

(2) Heard a report by C. G. Potter, chairman of the Lisbon safe driving committee, containing recommendations regarding village traffic regulations and facilities. Mayor Warren said he will appoint a committee to meet with the other group for further study of the matter.

(3) Ordered the payment of $90 to Mrs. William Welsh and $40 to Mrs. Steve Belaney for damages caused during the installation of sewer line across their properties in the east section of the village.

(4) Tabled action on a proposal to restrict parking on both sides of E. Chestnut St.

(5) Voted to defer action on Daylight Savings Time until it ascertains whether Salem and Youngstown plan to extend fast time through October or revert to slow time at the end of September.

(6) Transferred $800 from the general fund to the civil defense fund.

Mayor Warren reported to Council that his office had handled 28 state and 38 village cases during April. The village's portion of fines and costs totaled $2,626, he said.

Of Primary Importance

Nothing leaves a citizen colder in this era of doubt about the direct primary than to be urged to back it with his vote.

If he has made up his mind to vote in the primary he resents being told to do what he already has done. If he has no interest in the matter, he resents being reminded of that, too.

But as long as the direct primary is retained, it must be taken into account. It cannot be ignored. Its original purpose has not been served. But it is still the way candidates for party nominations are chosen.

No amount of interest next November can undo the damage if the nominees chosen in May are below standard. Government, itself, is the victim when voters must make a choice between candidates equally unsuited for the jobs they seek.

The direct primary has run into trouble because it keeps political parties from controlling their nominations. That was the very thing reformers intended to do when they abolished conventions and gave voters the power to pick their own candidates.

But the reformers were wrong in thinking voters would tackle the job with enthusiasm. There has been no enthusiasm, except among voters with special insight into politics, or with axes to grind.

This is one of the things hurting popular interest in representative democracy. Popular government is not a job for politicians and special-interest groups. It is a job for everybody.

If you are qualified to vote next Tuesday and haven't made up your mind to vote, make it up. If a plug-ugly told you he wanted you to stay home, you'd be there when the polls opened Tuesday morning. Make sure you get there before they close.

In Case Of Doubt

Not the least tragic result of the Parris Island incident that has caused the U.S. Marine Corps to explain itself to Congress and the public is the shadow cast on the Marines' world-famous training program.

In justice to a great organization whose commanding general has ordered precautions that will bar the possibility of mistakes like the one that killed six trainees early last month the program's purpose should be better understood.

Gen. Randolph McCall Pate, the Marine Corps commandant, reduced it to these few words in his report to the Secretary of the Navy on the Parris Island incident:

"Recruit training consists in preparing and conditioning mentally, physically and emotionally a group of young and naturally well disposed youths to meet the experience of violence and bloodshed which is war . . . For the individual there is nothing logical in war, there is no reward for him save the satisfaction of fulfilling his duty to the nation, tempered by the bleak prospect of dismemberment or death. Men who face the ordeal of battle without flinching do so because of some loyalty, some abstract sense of dedication to cause or purpose, some natural or instilled pride in resolute behavior sufficient to override every natural instinct for survival. The deliberate inculcation of this spirit has always been the supreme object of our recruit training."

There is always an American way

There will be old-time, old-line militarists who will be sick about Gen. Pate's new policy for training U. S. Marines, announced to the House Armed Services Committee this week. It will sound to their leathery, battle-scarred ears like coddling.

But Gen. Pate, as the No. 1 U.S. Marine, had no choice. He could not possibly continue the training methods that made it so easily possible for a drill sergeant to cause six Marine trainees to be drowned needlessly early in April, especially when the Marine Corps was asking for its annual appropriation.

The Marine Corps is responsible to Congress and to the people, through their representation in Congress. There is always an American way to perform a task. There is nothing in the American way about military discipline that is wide open to abuse by men who do not fully understand the responsibilities of command.

Marines are proud of being tough enough to survive training so rigorous it marks them as members of a special military class. The country is proud of them for what they have done and what they are trained to do.

But everybody can be proud, too, of Gen. Pate's decision to reorganize training methods. Abuses of command like the one which caused six trainees to be needlessly drowned during a march that never should have been ordered have no place in the U.S. Marine Corps.

Vulnerable Liberals

Attempts To Smear Nixon Trigger Repercussion

There's an old saying that "people in glass houses shouldn't throw stones" and it might be applied in one of the issues facing Adlai Stevenson and the group of so-called "liberals" who have been trying to smear Vice president Nixon with unproved charges.

Lawrence

M. R. Stevenson has not said a word to the American people, for example, about the strange behavior of the chairman of the Americans for Democratic Action—an organization which supported him so enthusiastically in 1952 and from which group he drafted some of the principal advisers in his campaign.

Does Mr. Stevenson approve of what the chairman of that group did recently in trying to "get" a United States senator? Will Mr. Stevenson accept support from the A.D.A. once more? The question is raised in the current issue of "The Saturday Evening Post" in an editorial that has stirred political circles in Washington. Its full text follows:

"Two months seems long enough to wait for some indication as to how the faultlessly-tailored members of Americans for Democratic Action feel about their chairman, Mr. Joseph L. Rauh, Jr.

"THERE ARE GOOD reasons to wonder. On February third, one Paul H. Hughes was acquitted in a New York federal court of two charges of perjury. One charge was that Hughes lied when he testified previously that he had overheard Mr. Rauh talk on the telephone with Brig. Gen. Telford Taylor (retired), another A.D.A. official concerning arrangements to give financial assistance to Harvey Matusow, the in-and-out witness who recanted testimony he had given in several trials of Communists. The jury found Hughes not guilty.

"Upon four other charges growing out of Hughes' efforts to palm himself off to liberal groups as a former member of Sen. McCarthy's staff with important 'dirt' to sell, the jury disagreed. It was testified that among those who fell for Hughes fabrications were some of the brass of the Washington Post and Mr. Rauh of the A.D.A. "Rauh testified that he did not know that the Hughes material was phony although some of it was so preposterous that it ought not to have deceived even the most dedicated liberal. Hughes testified that Rauh knew that the material was fictitious. Despite the fact that it was Rauh's word against that of a confessed forger whom his own lawyer described as a 'house', the jury could not reach a verdict.

"THE THING which might reasonably be troubling the membership of A.D.A. is its chairman's involvement in practices which A.D.A. has waxed eloquent against the use of 'informers' by the Department of Justice, but it seemed willing to avail itself of the services of a man who represented himself as an informer and a purveyor of documents.

"Sen. McCarthy has been a pain in the neck to many Americans, including so-called right - wingers, but the evidence in the Hughes trial seems to indicate that in

A.D.A. circles 'McCarthyism' is not considered reprehensible when practiced by dedicated liberals against 'reactionaries' and their ilk.

"Anyway it would be enlightening to learn whether there are any back-benchers in A.D.A. who are even mildly disturbed by their chairman's carryings on. At the moment the betting is the other way. If Mr. Rauh does not get a grant from the Fund for the Republic, invitations to give the Thomas Jefferson lectures at four Ivy League universities and the applause of all right-thinking 'liberals', he has a right to be a disappointed man."

SOME OTHER ASPECTS of the same question were discussed by Sen. Goldwater of Arizona, Republican, in a speech in the Senate which was printed in "the Congressional Record" of April 16th last. Mr. Goldwater mentioned "the role of the Democratic National Committee in this sordid conspiracy and specifically the part played by Mr. Clayton Fritchey, deputy chairman of the committee and editor of the Democratic Digest." The Arizona senator called on "candidate Stevenson" to take a good look at the Hughes case and added:

"In all, Mr. Fritchey handed over $2,500 to Hughes, and his friend Joseph L. Rauh Jr. of A.D.A. left-wing fame, tossed an additional $8,500 in the till to keep Hughes' imagination well oiled so that the supply of scandalous memoranda would not dry up."

There are many unsolved puzzles in the Hughes case. Messrs. Fritchey and Rauh and the others who paid money to Hughes had a perfect right, of course, to look into the offerings of a man who claimed to have reliable information which, if true, would lead to the expulsion of Sen. McCarthy. But just why it took so many months to discover that Hughes was not an employee of either the Senate or of Sen. McCarthy, as Hughes claimed, and why the money was doled out to Hughes over so long a period of time has never been adequately explained.

NOR IS IT CLEAR why the Senate itself doesn't take up the Hughes case. For it has a committee especially ordered to investigate improper attempts to influence United States senators.

There have been Senate hearings on attempts indirectly to contribute to a senator's campaign fund in connection with legislation and lots of front page stuff was developed last week about some telephone calls made by a couple clerks at the White House as a courtesy to a lawyer who happens to have been campaign manager in past years for three prominent personalities in the Republican party—Sen. Knowland, Chief Justice Warren and Vice President Nixon.

Yet the Hughes case involves something that touches far more intimately the integrity of the Senate than did the episode in connection with the pending gas bill.

The Hughes case reveals, in a court of law evidence that efforts were made to use several thousands of dollars to intimidate into silence or to influence in some way the course of action of a United States senator whose speeches in fighting the Communist menace in America happen to have been distasteful to political groups and organizations opposed to his views.

Market For Brains

NEW YORK (U) — Expanding plants and growing industries call for a fresh supply of brains and talent. And this year's college seniors are cashing in on it.

Placement officers report that a greater proportion of men and women will be heading for jobs next month than ever before in collegiate history. The starting pay will average higher.

Graduating engineers have been stepped up. Students trained in business administration are being recruited. And even the liberal arts schools are placing more graduates in jobs this year, after trailing during much of the business boom.

The Engineers Joint Council, representing 10 engineering societies, reports that some 5,000 companies have been bidding for the 23,000 seniors being graduated from engineering schools. It finds that the 14,000 graduates from two-year technological institutes are also being sought by industry, along with specially trained high school graduates.

The Northwestern National Life Insurance Co., in its annual survey of placements, noted that "at many engineering schools the recruiting firms have outnumbered the available seniors."

At Pennsylvania State University industrial recruiters are reported to have been contacting juniors and sophomores as well. Many companies are wooing students, and their professors, with summer jobs, expecting them to carry a good word about the firm back to the campus next fall.

The director of placement at Northwestern University estimates that hiring of graduates is up by 30 per cent this year. Starting pay for engineers is up an average $23 a month this year to just under $400, and the nontechnically trained are averaging around $350, while women with scientific training are starting at around $340.

Average costs of recruiting teams indicates that interviewing and hiring a student calls for an outlay of $1,000 or more.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

(This column has been prepared by Victor Riesel's staff after a bedside consultation with the injured columnist who is totally blind as a result of the acid attack by mobsters.)

From files of prominent American labor leaders active in the fight against the global Communist conspiracy comes a report that the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency has information that Andre Vishinsky did not die a natural death on Nov. 2, 1954, but was poisoned in New York by a special courier dispatched from Moscow by the NKVD.

Victor Riesel by Moscow by the NKVD.

CIA has documentation, according to these anti-Soviet unionists, that Vishinsky, then chief Soviet delegate to the United Nations, had been recalled to Moscow after the execution of former NKVD boss Lavrenti Beria. He refused to return. The CIA records, they say, will establish that "thereupon, a special courier (whose name is known to CIA, according to the laborites) arrived in New York on Nov. 19 and Vishinsky died three days later."

THESE LABOR CHIEFS, who believe Vishinsky was murdered on orders from the Kremlin, add that Russian Embassy officials refused to permit an American doctor to examine the body according to normal police procedure here. Instead, the death certificate was signed by the Soviet Embassy physician, Dr. Alexei T. Kosov. The doctor returned to Moscow with the body in a special plane on Nov. 23.

Kosov has disappeared and his whereabouts since that day are "unknown."

Significantly, Vishinsky, like Beria, was one of Joe Stalin's favorites and was trial prosecutor during the purge in the 30's of outstanding Communist leaders who came into Stalin's disfavor.

Today, like Stalin and Beria, Vishinsky is also being purged from Soviet history. They are being called "madmen," "beasts," "power-mad tyrants," "cruel murderers" and a host of other appellations unfit for the family newspaper trade.

THIS IS PART of the "new approach" by the "collective leadership" of Bulganin, Krushchev, Molotov and Mikoyan—a quartet of assassins and partners-in-crime of Beria. These are the men who served not just as puppets for the ruthless Stalin but as active accomplices in all of the terror, purges and assassinations that mark the Soviet dictatorship—then and now.

While fluttery "do-gooders" and calculating politicians may fall for or accept the "new look"—thereby handing the Russians still another propaganda victory over the free world—hard headed labor leaders here know that there is no "new" look.

They believe we are still dealing with what AFL-CIO president George Meany calls "the monolithic, one-party dictatorship in the hands of a narrow clique whose policies are always unanimously approved by those handpicked by the Communist ruling group to 'represent' the people."

GEORGE MEANY holds the view that B&K, who recently did their new song-and-dance routine at the Palace—Buckingham, that is—are part and parcel of the old, rotten regime that has subverted decency across the world. The hard-hitting, blunt-spoken labor leader describes today's Russian police state this way:

"It is a system maintained by sheer terror. It holds many millions in slave labor camps and prisons. It maintains its stranglehold through continuing purges by firing squads and a complete denial of labor and the fundamental human rights proclaimed in our Bill of Rights.

"For the people behind the Iron Curtain, the dictatorship is no less oppressive when it is run by four or more tyrants trained in the Stalinist school than when it was run by a single despot."

The AFL-CIO president has warned that no ostensible "change" announced by the collective czars of the Kremlin is worth a watered-down ruble unless it incorporates certain basic changes. Meany has suggested eight elements that would make possible a genuine change in Russia.

THE FOUR MOST important of these are:

"1. Abolish the one - party system in the USSR and restore the right to organize free trade unions and democratic political parties.

"2. Release ALL political prisoners and close ALL concentration camps.

"3. Cease ALL subversive and espionage activities through all its agencies. (This includes the Kremlin-controlled World Federation of Trade Unions which Meany calls 'the most dangerous spearhead of the international Communist conspiracy.)

"4. Agree to disarmament through international inspection and supervision of nuclear and all other weapons of mass destruction."

Behind this tough position by Meany on the "new look" in Russia is his equally tough stand on "neutrality"—the concept of a "softer" approach to Communist aggression, as advocated by Walter and Victor Reuther in particular. That's the nub of the increasingly bitter feud between the old AFL president and the old CIO president—a hassle that broke out publicly only a few days ago in Washington and will spill over again in the months ahead.

Purely Personal

By TRUMAN TWILL

People have to be in the mood for politics, otherwise political wrangling gets on their nerves. The way I figure it, smart politicians won't wrangle this year, because there will be no percentage in it.

Rocco Marchegiano, who changed his name to Rocky Marciano at the beginning of his fight career, demonstrates the logic of Americanizing all foreign words. My pet candidates are croaky and booky for croquet and bouquet.

This impression may be accidental, but are some TV actors beginning to imitate the bad practices of stage actors, such as mumbling their lines and playing to each other instead of the Great Unseen Audience?

My contribution to safety on the highways is ready for patenting—a side-mounted air gun that will shoot a needle-pointed projectile into the metal bodies of cars passing on hills, curves and against oncoming traffic. Attached to each projectile like the ribbon on a banderilla shot into a bull will be a string: Memento of a Driver Whose Life You Risked.

One of my uncles who died at the age of 80-something never owned a toothbrush or visited a dentist. Yet he had all but one of his original teeth when he died. I feel better about mentioning this now because an interview in U.S. News & World Report with a pair of hot-shot dentists reveals tooth-brush-ing may be fun but has nothing to do with preserving teeth.

Except for wedding rings, I find it difficult to forgive men and women for cluttering up their fingers with what seem to me to be barbaric baubles.

After it has been survived this year—if it is—spring will be a word that no one should mention in my presence without apologizing.

I always am started by highly-civilized people who turn out to be citizens of countries whose governments have earned international ill repute and it makes me wonder about my own government's reputation abroad.

One of the quickest ways to liven up a lagging conversation is to wonder aloud what causes some well known dreamboat to be so regarded.

Much as I appreciate their matches, I admit cheerfully I cannot recall the names of political candidates printed on the matchbooks I use.

Whenever I hear someone blasting the foreign aid program, I want to ask them if they ever have thought of it as the modern way of subsidizing an export trade for manufacturers and farmers—and this is not a popular point of view.

It is my conviction that nine out of ten people are secretly unhappy about riding in automatic elevators and would prefer to have an operator present.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

No Biz Like Show Biz

Khrushchev and Bulganin continue their bids for a welcome mat unrolling by the United States, but present indications are that they won't get any big parades here unless mistaken for channel swimmers. Still, you never can tell. They are good showmen and may get in under a classification of "foreign acts."

Ike is cool to the Moscow hints and is sending no "Come up and see me sometime" messages. It seems certain there will be no White House tea and no clam bake for the Soviets at Gettysburg. (How the Red leaders would like some news photos showing them on the fields of Gettysburg!)

THEY SEEM TO BE pretty smart in waggling good results from a road show, and Uncle Sam would have to be on the alert, against an agenda which would include Khrushchev and Bulganin catching a ball thrown from the Washington monument, baby-kissing in front of the Lincoln Memorial, planting Siberian cherry trees in the mall, throwing a ruble across the Potomac or crying, "Where's all the vodka gone?" at a White House lawn party.

They have a way of circumventing plans and getting around barriers. They are trying out the welcome mat for wall-to-wall covering and have discovered that a red rug can be manipulated into a top propaganda instrument, and converted into a Moscow Flying Carpet with built-in affability.

SOVIET NOTABLES are no novelty in America. Gromyko put on "The Walkout" years ago and was followed by Malik in "A Thousand And One Nyets," and by Vishinsky in "Waiting For Epitaphs." Kremlin biggies have lived in Park Avenue hotels and the Long Island ex-patriates of the rich for a decade. But America is a pushover for new shows, "spectaculars" and sensational performers and it could be that the K & B production, replete with quick costume changes, lacks only vetrolism, impersonations and tap dancing to draw crowds.

Should they ever visit this country, they would probably land in New York, where the following program might be suggested:

1. A day in U.N. under compulsion to listen to recordings of Soviet tirades, insults and abuse of the free world over the last ten years.
2. Visit to a newspaper plant to listen to the loud laughter by any American publisher at any request from the government to slant news.
3. A two-hour trip to any American jury trial.
4. Visit to an important defense plant being picketed by hundreds of American working men and women with no danger of a fast trip to salt mines.
5. Perusal of a typical income tax return showing the financial capacities of the average American.
6. Trip to Wall Street and search for an American capitalist with long horns and forked tail.
7. View of the "downtrodden American victims of capitalist exploitation" on weekend auto trips in $3,000 sedans.

A N.Y. COUNCILMAN charges that the city was paid only $93,306 on a nominally due sum of $14,000 for the lease of a Central Park restaurant between 1948 and 1955. Maybe the big need is for more space for bookkeeping rather than parking.

Ima Dode saw "The Swan" and says it was "just lucky."

There is talk of ordering green berets for GIs. Training our boys for war or for an "Artists & Models" revival?

George Gobel has signed to do another movie. Possibly in the theory every man is entitled to a second chance.

The statue of Gen. Sherman and his horse at 59th and Fifth Avenue, N.Y., is being overhauled and put into presentable shape. Sherman had more trouble fighting pigeons through the years than he ever had fighting Johnny Reb. And he lost the battle.

Chief Interest Is In Governor Race

1 1/2 Million Ohioans Go To Polls Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An estimated 1 1/2 million Ohioans voted today in primary elections for party candidates for statewide offices and for delegates to the national presidential conventions.

The total vote of 1,487,900 predicted by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown meant that about three of every four potential Ohio voters failed to visit the state's 11,714 polling places today.

Chief statewide interest centered on the Republican and Democratic races for the nominations for governor. Two GOP aspirants and five Democratic hopefuls bid for votes and a chance to succeed five-term Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

Lausche was unopposed in his bid for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senators. He is trying to unseat Sen. George H. Bender, who has no opposition for the Republican nomination.

Trying for the Republican gubernatorial nomination are Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill of Marietta and Lt. Gov. John W. Brown of Medina.

The five Democratic hopefuls in the governor race are Michael V. DiSalle, former Toledo mayor and U. S. price czar; Oscar L. Fleckner, former Springfield city manager and state liquor control director; Mayor Frank X. Kryzan of Youngstown; Robert W. Reider, Port Clinton publisher, and Cleveland Municipal Judge John E. Sweeney, a former Ohio secretary of state.

Democrats today were electing delegates with 58 votes in the national Democratic convention in August. Republicans were electing delegates to represent them with 56 votes at the GOP convention at San Francisco.

Lausche has entered a slate of delegate candidates in the Democratic primary pledged to him as "Ohio's favorite son." That slate is unopposed except in the four congressional districts in Cuyahoga County and in the 16th District made up of Stark (Canton), Tuscarawas and Wayne counties.

One of Lausche's delegates has been disqualified, but, otherwise, he has a full slate.

A full Republican slate nominally pledged to Sen. John W. Bricker as "favorite son" is unopposed. Bricker permitted his name to be used as "favorite son" because Ohio's filing deadline came a full month before President Eisenhower announced his decision to be a candidate for reelection. Bricker said at the time of filing that it was merely a holding operation pending the President's decision.

Other heavily populated races in today's primaries were those in both parties for lieutenant governor and attorney general.

Two-term Lt. Gov. Brown is vacating that post to make his bid for governor. Four Republicans and three Democrats seek to succeed him.

Three-term Atty. Gen. O'Neill is leaving his post because of his race for governor. Seeking to succeed him are five Democrats and four Republicans.

Republicans in the lieutenant governor derby are Tennyson Guyer of Findlay, Paul M. Herbert of Cincinnati and George V. Woodling of Cleveland. Democrats: John Taylor of Salem, Mayor R. Edward Tepe of Norwood and Roy H. Burry of Lyons.

In the attorney general race on the Republican ticket are Cleveland Councilman Harry T. Marshall; J. Eugene Roberts of Hubbard; former House Speaker William Saxbe and Chalmers P. Wyllie, Columbus city attorney. Democrats: Vito Adamo, Youngstown; Paul J. George, Youngstown; Marion A. Ross, Columbus; Paul F. Ward, Columbus, and Stephen M. Young, Cleveland.

There were only two other statewide contests on today's ballots.

Rock 'n Roll Troupe, Trucker Fail To Jive

CLEVELAND (AP)—A rock 'n roll troupe and a truck driver made dissonance early today at the Ohio Turnpike's Middle Ridge Plaza west of here.

There were two interpretations of the theme, but the score ended on the downbeat: One real gone truck driver, knocked unconscious and treated for bruises at Amherst Hospital. The act featured trucker Charles B. Scharch, 28, of Fort Wayne, Ind., and a busload of 74 entertainers, including bandman Wild Bill Haley and his Comets, The Teenagers, The Platters and The Teen Queens.

All of the musicians except Teen Queen Betty Collins, 20, of Santa Monica, Calif., went into the restaurant. Now, from statements given turnpike Patrolman R. L. Merket, begin the improvisations.

Miss Collins said she had awakened and started after the others when Scharch rolled down his truck window and made a sort of early time remark.

"We had words and he jumped out and knocked me down," she said.

Scharch, however, said he was startled out of a sleep by someone jumping on his running board. He said he gave chase, finally tackling Miss Collins near the restaurant.

The discord went to fortissimo as the Haley men came out of the restaurant in presto time and thumped Scharch in the thorax.

After his return from the hospital, Scharch shook hands all around and went on his way. No one wanted to file charges.

Beckman Instruments, Inc., is building the computer at Berkeley, Calif., for the Allison Division of General Motors in Indianapolis. It will be completed in July. ## Columbiana Methodist WSCS Officers Will Be Installed COLUMBIANA — Officers elected by the Methodist W.S.C.S. at its mother-daughter banquet in the church dining room last Thursday evening will be installed soon at a Sunday morning service to be announced. There was an attendance of 256.

The officers are: Mrs. George Cannon, president; Mrs. George Hess, vice president; Mrs. Glenn Shasteen, recording secretary; Mrs. R. B. Tyson, treasurer; department secretaries: Mrs. D. W. Bailey, Mrs. Harvey Royer and Mrs. Robert Chesnut, spiritual life; Mrs. Harold Nelson and Mrs. P. R. Corey, local church activities; Mrs. Bernard Freeman, promotion; Mrs. Alice Brown, church work; Mrs. H. H. Pierson, missionary work; Mrs. John Robinson, supplies; Mrs. W. J. Anderson, youth work; Mrs. Clifford Shell, student work; Mrs. R. G. Bevington, membership personnel; Mrs. Frank Snodgrass, literature and publications; Mrs. Richard Mahon, status of women.

Mrs. W. S. Longworth, wife of the pastor, extended a welcome and her daughters gave the response. Mrs. Yvonne Foerch was the youngest mother present, Mrs. James Dean the youngest grandmother; Mrs. Ralph Perrine, the mother present with the most daughters, five, and Mrs. J. H.

Longworth, mother of the pastor, the grandmother with the most grandchildren, 20.

Atty. John L. Hutson, chairman of the cancer fund for Columbiana and vicinity, reports that contributions are coming by mail daily. At the week-end about $875 had been received. Responses have been received to only about 15 percent of letters mailed, however, he said.

Richard Berryman, Columbiana High School coach, attended a grid coaches' clinic at Ohio State University the last of the week.

The Junior Tri-Hi-Y of Columbiana schools will have a record hop at Dixon School, Saturday evening, May 19.

Twenty-nine Pennsylvania Railroad camp cars that were stationed last week only the switches at the western edge of town were moved Sunday to a section of the road between Sandusky and Toledo. The cars house a force of about 35 rail layers, who were engaged here in transposing rails from one side of the tracks to the other between Columbiana, Leetonia and Salem to equalize the wear.

Columbiana branch of the W.C.T.U. will meet at the home of Mrs. John C. Hennon, 118 W. Railroad St., at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

The Columbiana Storage Co. unloaded in the Pennsylvania freight yard yesterday a car of magnesium sulphate from the West Zone, Germany, for the Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Co., used as a bonding element with other material in its manufacture of refractories brick for the steel industry. It is not available in the U. S. and has to be imported from Western Germany. Delivery is made from Germany to the port of Baltimore.

Directors of the Columbiana Business & Professional Women's Club will meet in the Union Bank at 7:30 p.m. today.

A car of White Rural seed potatoes is on its way from the Upper Peninsula of Michigan to the Columbiana Farm Bureau Cooperative, and some truck consignments of Russets are on the way from the Lower Peninsula. These will probably be the last seed potatoes to be received this spring.

The Class Room Teachers Association of the Columbiana schools will entertain members of the board of education and their wives at dinner in Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday, May 17.

And, it's hard to think of any occasion that more naturally calls for camera action than Mother's Day . . . on no less than three fronts.

First, there will be the taking and selecting of pictures for gifts. These may take the form of a special surprise album from the family. Or perhaps it will be a new locket or watchband carrying tiny pictures of Dad and the kids.

Then, there are pictures to take as well as to give. Take pictures of Mother on this, her day, the one day in the year when she can really reign as queen. Make a picture sequence of her day. Present it to her later in an album as a surprise gift.

Then, why not consider a brand-new camera as a Mother's Day gift? But whatever pictures you take, whatever gift you give, keep Mother in the picture on Mother's Day all through the year.

6 Building Permits Are Issued Here

Construction totaling an estimated $26,910 was begun in Salem last week, according to six building permits issued by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer.

During the week construction on two new residences was started. Permits were granted to Victor S. Todarello for a $9,000 five-room dwelling and garage at 973 Fair Ave. and Mrs. J. Reid Scott for a $9,000 six room house and garage at 922 Fair Ave.

Other building permits issued were: Jack Sarbin, $6,000 for general remodeling at 192 E. State St.; Virgil Niederhiser, $1,000 for a cement block basement at 840 Morris St.; Modern Improvement Co. $910 for aluminum siding at 1551 Maple St. and Vera Drotloff, $1,000 for asbestos siding at 124-128 Rose St.

Chief Interest Is In Governor Race

1 1/2 Million Ohioans Go To Polls Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An estimated 1 1/2 million Ohioans voted today in primary elections for party candidates for statewide offices and for delegates to the national presidential conventions.

The total vote of 1,487,900 predicted by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown meant that about three of every four potential Ohio voters failed to visit the state's 11,714 polling places today.

Chief statewide interest centered on the Republican and Democratic races for the nominations for governor. Two GOP aspirants and five Democratic hopefuls bid for votes and a chance to succeed five-term Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

Lausche was unopposed in his bid for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senators. He is trying to unseat Sen. George H. Bender, who has no opposition for the Republican nomination.

Trying for the Republican gubernatorial nomination are Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill of Marietta and Lt. Gov. John W. Brown of Medina.

The five Democratic hopefuls in the governor race are Michael V. DiSalle, former Toledo mayor and U. S. price czar; Oscar L. Fleckner, former Springfield city manager and state liquor control director; Mayor Frank X. Kryzan of Youngstown; Robert W. Reider, Port Clinton publisher, and Cleveland Municipal Judge John E. Sweeney, a former Ohio secretary of state.

Democrats today were electing delegates with 58 votes in the national Democratic convention in August. Republicans were electing delegates to represent them with 56 votes at the GOP convention at San Francisco.

Lausche has entered a slate of delegate candidates in the Democratic primary pledged to him as "Ohio's favorite son." That slate is unopposed except in the four congressional districts in Cuyahoga County and in the 16th District made up of Stark (Canton), Tuscarawas and Wayne counties.

One of Lausche's delegates has been disqualified, but, otherwise, he has a full slate.

A full Republican slate nominally pledged to Sen. John W. Bricker as "favorite son" is unopposed. Bricker permitted his name to be used as "favorite son" because Ohio's filing deadline came a full month before President Eisenhower announced his decision to be a candidate for reelection. Bricker said at the time of filing that it was merely a holding operation pending the President's decision.

Other heavily populated races in today's primaries were those in both parties for lieutenant governor and attorney general.

Two-term Lt. Gov. Brown is vacating that post to make his bid for governor. Four Republicans and three Democrats seek to succeed him.

Three-term Atty. Gen. O'Neill is leaving his post because of his race for governor. Seeking to succeed him are five Democrats and four Republicans.

Republicans in the lieutenant governor derby are Tennyson Guyer of Findlay, Paul M. Herbert of Columbus, William C. Kelly of Cincinnati and George V. Woodling of Cleveland. Democrats: John Taylor of Salem, Mayor R. Edward Tepe of Norwood and Roy H. Barry of Lyons.

In the attorney general race on the Republican ticket are Cleveland Councilman Harry T. Marshall; J. Eugene Roberts of Hubbard; former House Speaker William Saxbe and Chalmers P. Wyllie, Columbus city attorney. Democrats: Vito Adamo, Youngstown; Paul J. George, Youngstown; Marion A. Ross, Columbus; Paul F. Ward, Columbus, and Stephen M. Young, Cleveland.

There were only two other statewide contests on today's ballots.

While State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy was unopposed for the GOP nomination to that post, two Democrats sought their party's nod. One is John W. Donahay of Hudson, son of A. V. Donahay, late Ohio governor and senator. The other is John Brown, listed as an automobile salesman in Willoughby, who has not been seen in the state since before a friend filed his petitions for him. Brown is reported vacationing in Florida.

Two Republicans sought their party's nomination for the Ohio Supreme Court term which begins Jan. 2. They are former Gov. Thomas J. Herbert and former Supreme Court Judge Henry A. Middleton. Evan P. Ford of Columbus is unopposed for the Democratic nomination.

In addition to the statewide choices, voters also picked congressional candidates for the November election and nominated county candidates for all offices except county auditor. Legislature nominees also were being selected. A number of local issues also were on the ballots.

AMVETS TO MEET
Amvets are urged to attend a special meeting Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. in the post.

Electron Brain To Aid Design Of Jet Engines
LOS ANGELES (AP)—A huge electron brain is being assembled for use in the design of advanced jet engines.

Beckman Instruments, Inc., is building the computer at Berkeley, Calif., for the Allison Division of General Motors in Indianapolis. It will be completed in July. With it, designers can picture an engine in action under varying conditions before it is built. Problems that ordinarily would require several years of man hours to solve can be worked out in a matter of a few weeks with the computer's superior brain, the builder says.

Program Is Held By Perry Grangers

Perry Grange members observed Rural Life Sunday with 54 at dinner and 75 present for the program Sunday at Perry Grange Hall. Mrs. Perry Hilliard, lecturer, was in charge of the program.

The group's opening song, "In The Garden," was followed by invocation by Rev. Cash, supply pastor at Phillips Christian Church. Mrs. Hilliard read a poem, "In God's Garden of Love," and three juvenile girls, Denise and Patty Duke and Sandra Hawkins, sang, "Follow the Glean."

The Stitches and Chatter 4-H Club presented a skit. The cast was comprised of Mrs. George Hawkins, advisor, Carol Hawkins and Cathy Groves.

Mrs. Chris Perrott sang two numbers, "In God's Garden" and "The Lord's Prayer." A talk on the advantages of rural life by Rev. Cash followed.

Ray Hilliard, advisor of the Perry 4-H Club, and three members, Robert Huppely, Richard Duke and David Perrott, also presented a skit.

Benediction concluded the program.

Sunday Is Mother's Day!

And, it's hard to think of any occasion that more naturally calls for camera action than Mother's Day... on no less than three fronts.

First, there will be the taking and selecting of pictures for gifts. These may take the form of a special surprise album from the family. Or perhaps it will be a new locket or watchband carrying tiny pictures of Dad and the kids.

Then, there are pictures to take as well as to give. Take pictures of Mother on this, her day, the one day in the year when she can really reign as queen. Make a picture sequence of her day. Present it to her later in an album as a surprise gift.

Then, why not consider a brand-new camera as a Mother's Day gift? But whatever pictures you take, whatever gift you give, keep Mother in the picture on Mother's Day all through the year.

Confident Indians Arrive In New York For 3-Game Series

Tribe Squarely On The Spot

Yanks Have Beaten Other Top Contenders

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Confident, cool and composed, the Cleveland Indians arrived in town for a three-game set with the New York Yankees.

The Tribe was squarely on the spot. There is an undercurrent of despair in the rest of the American League as the Yanks' overpowering strength. The Indians are the only contenders they haven't bullied.

Casey Stengel's men browbeat the Boston Red Sox four out of five, then polished off the Chicago White Sox twice Sunday. That, by a process of elimination, leaves the Indians.

"Well," said Stengel before the game, "we've seen them all except Cleveland, and I see no point in getting afraid now."

The Professor refuses to be drawn out on the possibility of the Yanks wrapping it all up early but in response to a laughing query as to how he'd feel if his club was home safe by midseason, he sighed:

"I'd just like to have the pleasure of knowing how it feels."

What has the rest of the league in a state of desperation is the fact that the Yanks are operating at almost half power. Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra, Hank Bauer and Moose Skowran all have been powdering the ball, but Joe Collins, Gil McDougald, Andy Carey and Billy Martin own a combined average of about .201.

Still, Senior Al Lopez doesn't seem worried. He has his three top pitchers—Early Wynn (paired with Tommy Byrne in the opener), Herb Score and Bob Lemon—set for the series, and had kind words for the rest of his team.

He said he is highly pleased with Chico Carrasquel, obtained from the White Sox for Larry Doby during the winter. Most baseball folk thought he made a mistake.

"All I know is that Carrasquel always looked good against us," said the Senior. "He is playing as good or better than I've ever seen him in the field."

"True, he isn't hitting for average, but he has batted in some very important runs for us."

Wynn goes after his fourth straight victory. Byrne (1-0) beat the Indians three times last season when the Yanks lost the interclub series 13-9.

Tom Brewer pitched the Boston Red Sox to a 5-1 victory Monday, fanning nine Indians and holding them hitless until the sixth. He also made three of Boston's 14 hits and drove in Norm Zauchin with a single in the fifth.

The Tribe's only threat was in the final inning when Gene Woodling and Bob Avila beat out infield hits and Wertz walked to fill the bases with none out. Woodling scored on Al Smith's long fly. Then after Regalado fled, Chico Carrasquel walked to refill the bases. But Sam Mele, batting for Hegan, grounded to second for the last out.

Pacific Conference Studies New Rules

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Presidents of the nine Pacific Coast conference schools, concerned with an "alarming situation" in violations of its athletic code, may change the rules.

Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, president of the University of California and spokesman for the president's meeting Monday, said the group next fall would "determine whether the rules now governing PCC athletics are realistic and suited to the environment."

The presidents let stand—thus approved—a severe penalty hung on the University of Washington by faculty advisers and athletic directors in their separate week-end meeting.

The penalty will cost Washington more than $50,000 in Rose Bowl income and prohibits the Huskies from being listed as champions in any sport or taking part in any post-season or all-conference competitions. The school was found guilty of letting football players get help from a fund set up by outside interests.

Redtop Davis Cleared Of Assault Charges

ZANESVILLE Ohio (AP)—Murry Cain, 32, of Zanesville, third ranking featherweight who goes under the name of "Redtop" Davis, Monday was cleared of assault charges growing out of a fight in a cafe here April 17.

Municipal Judge Robert J. Merry also dismissed counter charges of assault against Rudolph Bishop, 29, of Zanesville.

"Redtop" struck over the head with a rifle barrel during a fight with Bishop, was hospitalized for ten days.

COMEBACK — Having won his battle with polio, Vic Wertz has started the season batting more than .300. Outfielders require motorcycles when the Cleveland Indians' big first baseman squares away, takes a full swing, follows through and takes off.

Charley Cotton Scores Upset Over Giardello

NEW YORK (AP)—If Joey Giardello wants a return bout, happy Charley (King) Cotton says the onetime leading middleweight contender can have it any time.

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner, still chuckling over the fourth straight upset at St. Nicholas Arena, said today he hoped to make the repeat for June 4 or 11.

Giardello said he would like the chance to avenge the loss, his first in nearly two years. It all depends on whether or not Joey blew a tentative June 6 television date with Willie Vaughn in Chicago by losing.

Cotton, a 5-1 underdog, finished strong in the last three rounds Monday night to pull out a tight but unanimous 10-round decision.

Outweighed 159½ to 154½, Cotton, a 26-year-old comparative unknown from Toledo, Ohio, was much stronger than Giardello.

Judges Harold Barnes and Joe Eppy voted for Cotton 5-4-1. Referee Mark Conn called it even in rounds, 5-5 for each, but had Charley in front on points 8-6. The AP card had Cotton ahead 6-4. Conn penalized the 25-year-old Philadelphian the ninth round for his third low blow of the bout but Cotton had won that round by a big margin anyway.

Two City Softball Leagues Organized

Two of the city softball leagues were formed at the softball association meeting last night. The AA league was completed with six teams on the roster. Demings, Marks Landing, Stepanics Tavern of Kensington, Bayard Grange, Parker Chevrolet and Hecks Restaurant will make up the AA league this year.

Eight teams signed to play in the A class of the association, including: Bloombergs, Wilkes Inn, Garfield Grange, Kupka's All-Stars, King's Men, Happy Days, Westville, and Marshall's Texaco.

The softball season will begin Monday May 14 with four games played at Kelly Park beginning at 5:45 p.m.

The following practice schedule has been set up for this week by the association. Practices will be held at Kelly Park.

Today: Marks Landing, 6:00; Wilkes Inn, 7:15.

Wednesday: Happy Days, 6:00; Parkers, 7:15.

Thursday: Bloombergs, 6:00; Marshalls, 7:15.

Friday: Marks Landing, 6:00; Garfield Grange, 7:15.

Practices at Centennial Park will be held Wednesday for Demings (AA) and Hecks Restaurant (AA) at 6:00 and 7:15 p.m. respectively.

Ron Delany Plans New Kind of Race For Landy

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Irishman Ron Delany, beaten in the mile just once, flies back to California this week with another kind of race in mind for Australian John Landy.

The 20-year-old Villanova sophomore will meet the world record holder Saturday in the West Coast relay at Fresno, but he doesn't plan another fast getaway.

Delany whisked himself well ahead in the first quarter of the special mile at the Los Angeles Coliseum last Saturday. He sped through the first quarter in 59.6 but finished third behind Jim Bailey and Landy.

Bailey and Landy both broke the 4-minute mile for the first time in the United States, Bailey a stride ahead of his countryman in 3:58.6. Delany finished in 4:05.5.

"That first quarter was too fast," says Coach Jim Elliott, who will accompany Delany on the trip west.

"He wasn't told to set that pace. He's a runner who hangs back and comes up. He was told to go out and get out of the mob, but he kept going ahead."

Frank Atkins, Former Pitcher, Dies At 69

CLEVELAND (AP)—A former major league pitcher, Frank (Tommy) Atkins, 69, died of a heart ailment Monday in St. Luke's Hospital.

Atkins, a lefthander, pitched for the Philadelphia Athletics in 1909 and 1910 and then returned to Cleveland, where he starred in sandlot baseball for several years.

Baltimore Trips Tigers 4-3; Milwaukee Beats Dodgers 3-1

By ED WILKS

George Zuverink, the guy nobody wanted, right now is the No. 1 relief pitcher in the American League, getting the job done almost on a daily basis for the Baltimore Orioles who can hardly do a thing without him.

The 29-year-old righthander, who in his 11-year career has failed to hang on with Cleveland, Cincinnati and Detroit and who wound up in semipro ball as a free agent after his first year in the minors, has strolled in from the bullpen in 12 of Baltimore's 20 games this season. And of the nine games the Birds have won to date, he's saved six and won two.

Zuverink, purchased in desperation from Detroit last July, was called upon for the third time in two days Monday night and with two pitches snapped off a Tiger rally and picked up a 4-3 victory that lifted Baltimore into sixth place while reducing his earned run average to a nifty 1.50.

Pitching was the pass word in the other three games played in the majors Monday, too. In the American, Tom Brewer struck out nine and cut off Cleveland on four hits in a 5-1 Boston victory. In the National, Milwaukee's Bob Buhl beat Brooklyn 3-1 on six hits to retain the Braves' slim hold on first place, and St. Louis, helped by a weird five-run inning and dandy relief pitching by Lindy McDaniel, Gordon Jones and Jackie Collum, smacked the New York Giants 6-3 to tie the Cincinnati for second place.

Zuverink, who finished both ends of Baltimore's doubleheader sweep against Detroit Sunday, came on Monday night after the Tigers had scored a tying run off starter Bill Wigitt in the ninth. Zuverink's second pitch to Harvey Kuenn was rapped into an inning-ending double play. Then after relief Al Aber had walked the bases full in the Baltimore ninth, Hal Smith banged a single to break it up.

Brewer won his third against one defeat by granting Cleveland only two singles in eight innings. He retired the first 16 men in order, striking out seven, while the Red Sox were pasting Mike Garcia for 11 hits and four runs in five frames. Billy Goodman singled and tripled for the Bostonians while Dick Gernert and Norm Zauchin homered.

Buhl, now 2-0, had the help of two killing double plays while dumping the champion Brooks to their third straight defeat. Del Crandall drove in two runs and Hank Aaron homered as Carl Erskine lost his second.

Three singles, two of them bunts, three walks, a hit batsman, a wild pitch and a sacrifice fly brought the Cards from behind as starter-José Windy McCall, Hoyt Wilhelm and Marv Grissom had their troubles in the sixth inning. Red Schoendienst, who has hit safely in 15 straight games, singled the tie breaker across in the frame. McDaniel, a bonus baby, won his second with a hitless sixth in relief of Ben Flowers.

The Giants' Bill White, called up from Minneapolis Monday, broke into the lineup as the 26th player to swat a home run in his first major league at-bat. He also doubled and singled.

The Cincinnati Reds climbed the National League ladder in a hurry last week. Will they stay there?

The New York Giants turn in here today for a two game series with the Redlegs under the lights that may supply part of the answer.

Manager Bobby Bragan of the Pittsburgh Pirates thinks the Reds have "more all-round class than any club we've faced so far this season, and we've played them all with the exception of the Cubs and Braves."

Bragan, after the Pirates lost to the Reds in 10 innings Saturday, said, "with Mr. Muscles (Ted Kluszewski) back in the lineup no club in our league or no club in baseball, for that matter, can match them in the power department."

"And that kid (Frank) Robinson looks like another Willie Mays to me. He's easily the best-looking rookie I've seen this spring."

The home run is one of the big factors in boosting the Redlegs to second place. The Redlegs have 37 so far in 18 games.

If this rate were continued, the Reds would finish the season with more than 300 round-trip blows, roughly 100 more than any team in history.

The Redlegs put their hopes tonight on the arm of righthander Art Fowler, while the Giants nominated Jim Hearn, another righthander, in opposition.

Ohio State U. Moves To Put House In Order

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State University, placed on a year's probation recently for infractions of the Big Ten athletic code, is moving quietly to put its house in order.

Dignified acceptance of the penalty, and solemn promises by all concerned to live within the rules, greeted the edict handed down by Western Conference Commissioner Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson.

Wilson, who addressed some 1,000 high school coaches on the campus last weekend at a banquet sponsored by the university, said he "admired the way Ohio State has accepted this thing (probation and Rose Bowl ban) and the way they are proceeding."

President Howard Bevis said the university had swallowed its medicine, was determined to live within the rules, and would be heard from within the rules.

Athletic Director Dick Larkins, in a letter mailed to alumni, explained the reasons for the probation and said Wilson had conducted a long, thorough and fair investigation.

"We have done our utmost to assist in this investigation by being honest and truthful, and at no time have resorted to covering up the facts," Larkins said.

"It gives us an opportunity to strive diligently in the conference circles for a set of more realistic rules under which we can operate more practically and with less hypocrisy. It will enable us to gear our problem of unearned financial aid in conformity with, not only established law and order, but standards of decency to the young men on our squads."

The university was penalized because head Coach Woody Hayes had made small loans or monetary gifts to his players, a practice frowned upon by the conference, and because its outside work program for athletes did not conform to Big Ten rules.

Cigarette Possibly Put In Racer's Fuel Line

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Mechanics fished an unsmoked cigarette from the fuel line of a car being readied for the May 30 Indianapolis race Monday and one said it didn't appear the cigarette got there by accident.

Frank Clidden, chief mechanic of the car owned by Fred Sommers of Indianapolis, said there are no cigarette smokers among the car's pit crew members.

"I've been in auto racing a lot of years, and this is the first time this ever happened to me," said Clidden. "The tank was clean when we brought the racer to the track."

The cigarette was found when driver Ed Elisian complained he was unable to get enough fuel on a practice run. Mechanics said a clogged fuel line could cause serious damage in the highly tuned car.

added a single as New York lost to St. Louis 6-3.

Current hitting streaks: Red Schoendienst of St. Louis, 15 games; Al Dark of the Giants, 12 games; Milwaukee's Billy Braton, 10; Ken Boyer of St. Louis, Yogi Berra of the Yankees and Whitey Lockman of the Giants, 9 and Bill Tuttle of Detroit, Gus Zernia, of Kansas City and Ed Mathews of Milwaukee, 8.

Wayne Belardi, the former Brooklyn Dodger first baseman, is going great guns as a pinch-hitter for Detroit. Belardi has had five hits in eight trips for a .625 mark as a substitute batter. He had a single batting for Buddy Hicks, another ex-Dodger, in Monday night's game against Baltimore.

Good evidence that Pittsburgh is an improved club is the fact the Pirates have been involved in eight one-run games among the 18 they've played. The Pirates have

Bolt To Meet Al Balding In Hopkins Match

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Tommy Bolt meets Al Balding in the feature singles test of the International PGA Matches today as the United States seeks to wrap up its fifth straight Hopkins Trophy.

These two shot the hottest golf Monday in the four-ball matches which the United States won 5½ to 3½. Bolt and Gene Littler beat Bill Mawhinney and Murray Tucker of Canada 9-up and scored 3 points. Bolt, could do no wrong on the greens.

"If I had putted like that Sunday," said the lean Texan, speaking of the Colonial National Invitational Tournament, in which he finished second, "I'd have won that one in a breeze."

Bolt and Littler had a best ball of 61. Mawhinney and Tucker a 70.

Balding and Gordon Brydson of Canada, walloped Mike Souchak and Cary Middlecoff 5 and 4. Balding amazed even his teammates with his wizardry on the greens. Balding and Brydson, who played a terrific game himself, had a best ball of 64 despite a double bogey 6 on the 15th hole.

The Balding-Brydson duo won the full three points (one point for each nine and one for the other team match) — Doug Ford and Ted Kroll of the United States vs. Bill Kerr and Stan Leonard of Canada — to decide the issue.

Ford and Kroll managed to win the second nine 1-up after the teams tied in the first. Thus the United States got 2½ points to ½. It would have been a flat tie of 1½ points each but for a missed birdie putt by Leonard on the final green.

Figuring The Majors

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Figuring the majors:

The slugging Cincinnati Redlegs will break the major league home run record of 221 set by the Giants in 1947 if they continue their present pace. The Reds have slammed 37 homers in 18 games and will finish with more than 300 should they keep it up.

Dick Gernert, who couldn't do it as a first baseman, is making the grade as an outfielder with the Boston Red Sox. Gernert is batting .333 on 13 hits in 39 at bats. He walloped his fourth homer of the season Monday as Boston downed Cleveland 5-1.

Bob Friend of Pittsburgh, the National League's earned run leader last season, is having gopher ball trouble. He's already given up five home runs to Jackie Robinson and Charley Neul of Brooklyn. Ed Bailey of Cincinnati, Ernie Banks of Chicago and pitcher Johnny Antonelli of the Giants.

Current hitting streaks: Red Schoendienst of St. Louis, 15 games; Al Dark of the Giants, 12 games; Milwaukee's Billy Braton, 10; Ken Boyer of St. Louis, Yogi Berra of the Yankees and Whitey Lockman of the Giants, 9 and Bill Tuttle of Detroit, Gus Zernia, of Kansas City and Ed Mathews of Milwaukee, 8.

Good evidence that Pittsburgh is an improved club is the fact the Pirates have been involved in eight one-run games among the 18 they've played. The Pirates have won three and dropped five of the close ones.

Mickey Mantle of the Yankees is in the stratosphere in slugging percentage. The switcher has collected 60 total bases in 66 at bats for a slugging mark of .923. Mickey numbers three doubles, one triple and nine homers among his 28 hits. The highest possible slugging percentage is 4.000—if a batter gets a homer every time up.

Chicago White Sox Manager Marty Marion has cause to be concerned about the inept hitting of Larry Doby. The normally hard-hitting outfielder, who was acquired from Cleveland last winter, has yet to hit his first homer and he's batting only .300 with eight hits in 40 trips.

Stan Hack, Chicago Cubs' skipper, also has his outfield troubles. Here's what his flycatchers are batting: Walt Moryn, .281; Solly Drake, .250; Monte Irvin, .222; Jim King, .160; Gale Wade, .000 (11 at bats) and Pete Whisenant, .000 (3 at bats).

Ohio, until 12:00 noon Eastern Daylight Saving Time, on the 22nd day of May, 1956, at which time the bids will be publicly opened and read, for the purchase of bonds of said Board of Education in the aggregate amount of $2, 585,000. Said bonds shall be dated the first day of June, 1956, shall be in the denomination of $1000 each, shall draw interest payable semi-annually on the first day of November of each year beginning November 1, 1956, at the rate of 3 percent per annum, and shall be desiring to do so may present a bid for said bonds based upon their bearing a different rate of interest, provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be one-quarter of one percent or multiples thereof.

Said bonds mature as follows:
$60,000 on May 1 and November
1, in the year 1957; $60,000 on November 1, in the year 1958, and ber 1 in each of the years from 1959 to 1976, inclusive, which maturities are hereby determined to be in substantially equal semi-annual installments.

Said bonds are issued for the purpose of acquiring real estate for school purposes, land, building, and improving school sites, constructing, equipping and furnishing a new high school building, and remodeling, improving, equipping, furnishing and constructing additions to existing school buildings.

Said bonds are payable at the legal depository of the Board, presently the First National Bank of Salem, Salem,
Ohio, and are supported by unlimited taxes.

Said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder offering the lowest interest rate at not less than par and accreted interest. All bids must be accompanied by a bond or certified check on a solvent bank payable to the said Clerk, in the amount of one percent of the par amount of the bonds bid to, upon condition that if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds within a reasonable time after the award thereof or forfeit the same as liquidated damages in the event said condition is not fulfilled.

Bids shall be sealed and endorsed
"Bids for School Bonds."

The proceedings for this issue have been taken under the supervision of Messrs. Sanders & Dempsey, Bond Attorneys, Cleveland, Ohio, whose approving opinion will be furnished by the Board of Education to the successful bidder without expense. A complete transcript of proceedings and the printed bonds will be furnished by the Board of Education.

Said bonds will be awarded at a meeting of said Board to be held at 8:00 o'clock p.m. on the 22nd day of May, 1956, or at any adjournment
thereof.

The right is reserved to reject bids.

2 Ex-Officials Of Truman Go On Trial Today

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The government called its first witnesses today in the tax-fixing trial of two men who held high places in the Truman administration. The chief prosecutor said there will be some surprises.

The accused are Matthew J. Connelly, former appointments secretary at the White House; T. Lamar Caudle, former head of the Justice Department's Tax Division; and Harry I. Schwimmer, Puerto Rican businessman and onetime Kansas City attorney.

They are charged with conspiracy to stall and sidetrack the prosecution of Irving Sachs, St. Louis shoe manufacturer who was fined $40,000 in 1951 for income tax evasion.

Wyllis Newcomb, special assistant to the attorney general and chief prosecutor for the trial, charged in his opening statement Connelly and Caudle received oil royalties from Schwimmer for their help.

Schwimmer was attorney for Sachs.

Connelly got a $3,600 royalty and Caudle one for $3,300, the prosecutor said. He said Caudle gave his back "only after a St. Louis grand jury had started an investigation to determine if the Sachs case was fixed."

The 51-year-old Caudle, now an attorney in Wadesboro, N.C., was fired by Truman for having conflicting outside interests. Connelly, 48, now is a New York public relations man.

egates will be bound to vote on the first convention ballot according to today's vote. Thus Eisenhower is assured of 32 votes and Kefauver of 26 on first roll calls.

OHIO — Five Democrats fought for the gubernatorial nomination to succeed Frank J. Lausche, stepping down to run for the U.S. Senate seat now held by Republican George H. Bender. Lausche is unopposed for the Democratic nomination and Bender is unopposed for the GOP side.

Lausche had taken opposition in his bid to head the 58-vote Democratic delegation to the national convention, but was assured of 49 of the 58 before voting began.

Sen. John W. Bricker is unopposed in his move for control of the Republicans' 56 convention votes.

WEST VIRGINIA — There was no presidential preference voting and delegates are not tied to any candidate, but 10 candidates were seeking the Senate seat of the late Harley Kilgore.

The retiring governor, William C. Maryland, is one of five Democrats bidding for the nomination.

Former Sen. Chapman Revercomb is one of five Republicans seeking the GOP nomination.

FLORIDA — A six-man tussle for governor — which means election in predominantly Democratic Florida — highlighted the voting.

The field includes the incumbent, Leroy Collins, and former Gov. Fuller Warren. If no candidate gets a majority, the two top men will fight it out again May 29.

Florida residents also vote May 29 in an important presidential preference primary featuring a clash between Kefauver and Stevenson.

NEW MEXICO — there was no presidential preference voting. Gov. John F. Simms seeks re-nomination in the Democratic primary and is opposed by Ingram B. Pickett. Simms supports Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination. Pickett favors Gov. Averell Harriman of New York.

Edwin L. Mechem has no GOP primary opposition in his attempt to become the first New Mexican governor ever to regain the job after leaving office.

for 1954-55 provided another $1,560.05 toward receipts.

Guarantees to visiting schools, purchase of new equipment and reconditioning of old equipment were the major expenses of the year, although numerous smaller outlays swelled the total.

Visiting teams received $2,133.87 for their appearances here.

This was broken down as follows: New Philadelphia $300.

Ravenna $150.

Timken $250.

Struthers $400.

Newton Falls $250.

Dayton Kiser $500.

Raven $283.87.

The band received $411.39, including an allowance of $200; cleaning uniforms, $105.39; and transportation, $106.

New football equipment cost $2,179.77 last year and reconditioning old equipment, $1,863.73.

Other major expenses included: Films, $418.86; Hospital, medical and dental services, $401.33; officials $748.70; police, ticket service, custodians, $883.25; junior high athletics, $205; printing, advertising, tickets, $290.18; team transportation, $217.25.

The Salem team last year won three games, lost five and tied one. Bad weather on the nights of several of the games contributed to cutting the attendance.

smashed. The owners of the farms had long ago quit staying on their properties at night and escaped harm.

A night seldom goes by without attacks on one or on many farms in Algeria. At one place it may be 60 acres of olive trees chopped down, at another 2,000 grape vines may be cut at the roots.

In principle, the government compensates farmers for damages but evaluation of losses is difficult and payments are slow.

honor. I can say on behalf of our staff — and this was a joint staff effort — that we are very happy."

The international reporting award went to a roving three-man team from the Hearst newspapers. The team was headed by Editor in Chief William Randolph Hearst Jr.

Other winners

Cited with Hearst for exclusive interviews with Soviet leaders were Kingsbury Smith, vice president and general manager of International News Service, and Frank Conniff, editorial assistant to Hearst.

Local reporting (no edition deadline) — Lee Hiss, executive editor of the Detroit Free Press, for his coverage of the United Auto Workers' negotiations for supplemental employment pay.

Local reporting (no edition deadline) — Arthur Daley of the New York Times for his coverage of sports in his column "Sports of the Times."

National reporting — Charles L. Bartlett of the Chattanooga (Tenn.) Times, for his series exposing a conflict of interests that led to the resignation of Harold E. Talbot as secretary of the Air Force.

Editorials — Lauren K. Soth of the Des Moines Register and Tribune for his editorial invitation that led to the visit of a Russian farm delegation to Iowa.

Cartooning — Robert York of the Louisville (Ky.) Times for the "Achilles," his depiction of the weak heel of farm prices upon which the bulging figure of American prosperity rested.

Photography — The New York Daily News for consistently excellent news picture coverage. An outstanding example cited was George Mattson's air view of a bomber crash in the street of a Long Island, N.Y., community. Twenty-five other Daily News photographers were also named in the citation.

The winning newspaper receives a golden plaque. Individual winning journalists get $1,000 each. Awards in letters and music are $500 each.

Other winners included: History — "The Age of Reform," Richard Hofstadter's study of the passion for progress and reform from 1890 to 1940.

Biography — "Benjamin Henry Latrobe," a full length biography by Talbot Hamlin of America's first professional architect.

Poetry — Elizabeth Bishop's collection of poems, "North and South — a Cold Spring."

Music — Ernest Toch, self-taught Viennese composer, for his "Symphony No. 3." He is now a U.S. citizen.

Wins Art Scholarship

A $1,500 traveling scholarship art went to Mrs. Carol Maringer Benson of Cleveland, Ohio.

The 1956 prizes were for work completed during the prior calendar year in all categories except drama and music. For the latter two, the period was April 1, 1955, to March 31, 1956.

The winners were recommended to the Columbia trustees by advisory groups in journalism, literature and music.

Three newspaper editors and one publisher were announced Monday as new members of the advisory board on the Pulitzer Prizes. They serve three-year terms.

Norman Chandler, president and publisher of the Los Angeles Times, was elected to succeed Stuart H. Perry, publisher of the Adrian (Mich.) Telegram. Perry had resigned.

Elected to regular three-year terms were Barry Bingham, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal; Paul Miller, editor of the Rochester (N.Y.) Times-Union; and Louis B. Seltzer, editor of the Cleveland (Ohio) Press.

The three succeed Sevelon Brown, former editor and publisher of the Providence (R.I.) Journal; Kent Cooper, former general manager of the Associated Press; and William R. Mathews, president and publisher of The Tucson (Ariz.) Daily Star.

Bad Weather Could Delay H-Bomb Blast

ENIWETOK (AP) — A show of man's mightiest power, the H-bomb waited today for a power he doesn't control, the weather.

Shot Cherokee, the H-bomb blast, is scheduled tentatively for Thursday (Wednesday, U. S. time) if the weather is right. It hasn't been.

Scientists reported "strong, undesirable" winds at all altitudes, winds which might scatter radioactive particles outside the marked-off danger area of 375,000 square miles.

Three huge B52 jet bombers are parked on Eniwetok. One will carry the bomb and drop it over Namu Island, some 190 miles away in Bikini atoll. Which plane it will be is secret.

Newsmen were permitted to talk to the seven crewmen with the specification that no questions be asked regarding technical aspects of dropping the bomb or regarding matters touching on the men's
